Cheryl Broekelmann MA Ed, LSLS Cert. AVEd is the Director of Early Intervention and ihear Internet Therapy for St. Joseph Institute for the Deaf. She has 25 years’ experience as an educator of the deaf and hard of hearing. Cheryl taught for nine years in the Department of Communication Disorders and Deaf Education at Fontbonne University, Teaching Language in Deaf Education.

Disclosure: Financial: Cheryl Broekelmann is employed by the State Joseph Institute for the Deaf. Nonfinancial: No relevant relationships to disclose.

Nicole L. Goodson, JD is an attorney practicing special education law and special needs estate planning in Indianapolis, Indiana. She graduated from the University of Michigan Law School with a J.D. in 2004. In addition to representing her clients, Ms. Goodson presents educational seminars on the topics of special education law and estate planning throughout the state of Indiana. By discussing both of these areas with parents of special needs children, she can help assure parents that they have done all they can to provide for their child’s future. Ms. Goodson also serves as an attorney with Disability Legal Services of Indiana, Inc.

Disclosure: Financial: Nicole Goodson is a practicing attorney. She is receiving an honorarium form Hear Indiana. Nonfinancial: no relevant relationships to disclose.

Naomi Horton, MS, CCC-SLP earned her Bachelor’s Degree from Duke University, and her Master’s Degree in Speech Language Pathology from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. In 2003, she opened her own business, Horton Hears LLC, to provide auditory oral/verbal therapy in West Central Indiana. Ms. Horton has served as executive director for Hear Indiana since February 2008. Under her leadership, Hear Indiana’s operating budget has increased more than 600% in the last four years. Naomi is passionate that all families deserve equal access to listening and spoken language options.

Disclosure: Naomi Horton is owner of Horton Hears LLC. Nonfinancial: Naomi is the executive director of Hear Indiana.

Mary Ellen Nevins, Ed.D serves as the National Director of Professional Preparation in Cochlear Implants (PPCI), a professional learning program for speech language pathologists, audiologists and teachers. Her enthusiasm for professional learning also informs her participation in Project ASPIRE, a multimedia parent education curriculum at the University of Chicago.

Disclosure: Financial: Mary Ellen Nevins is a national director at Cochlear Implants (PPCI). She is also part of the Project ASPIRE at the University of Chicago. She receives royalties from Plural Publishing. Mary Ellen Nevins is receiving an honorarium from Hear Indiana. Nonfinancial: No relevant relationships to disclose.
Catharine McNally, BA is an Experience Analyst at Phase2 Technology. She is a dedicated advocate for using technology to bridge the accessibility divide – constantly finding new uses for accessibility. Her influential work has been recognized through national leadership awards, honors, and national publications. In 2011, McNally was listed as "People to Watch" in the Washingtonian Magazine’s Tech Titans feature, and the recipient of the American Association of People with Disabilities national leadership award.

McNally lost her hearing at eight months old, has used Cued Speech since she was eighteen months old and received her first cochlear implant at the age of three. When in college, Catharine completed a successful internship to increase accessibility and awareness at the Dali Universe gallery at the County Hall Gallery in London. After graduating from Wake Forest University, she began her advocacy work in accessibility at VSA Arts, the Smithsonian Freer and Sackler Galleries, and the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. She serves on the Board of Directors of the Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing.

Disclosure: Financial: Catherine McNally is a Experience Analyst at Phase2 Technology. She is receiving an honorarium from Hear Indiana. She also receives honoraria for speaking and teaching from the St Josephs Institute for the Deaf. Nonfinancial: no relevant relationships to disclose.

Teri Ouellette, MSED, LSLS Cert AVEd is Director of St. Joseph Institute for the Deaf – Indianapolis. Teri has degrees in Deaf Education and Early Childhood Special Education, and has taught infants - middle school students. She serves as President Elect on the AG Bell Academy Board and adjunct faculty through Ball State University and Smith College

Disclosure: Financial: Teri Ouellette is Director of St Joseph Institute for the Deaf Indianapolis.and President Elect of the AG Bell Association Academy. She is adjunct faculty with Ball State University and Smith College. Nonfinancial: no relevant relationships to disclose.

Susan Randich, Ph.D. is a clinical psychologist with over 30 years of experience in working with children and families. She has been the psychologist at SJI in St. Louis for 17 years, and has special expertise in evaluating and in diagnosing learning differences in children who are deaf.